ENROLLMENT IN ADAMS SCHOOLS IS UP 17.3 PCT.

The number of students in the Adams County public schools has increased by 1,230 during the last five years, according to the annual directory of the Adams County schools released today by County Superintendent C. P. Keefer.

According to the report, there are now 8,351 children in the public schools, a 17.3 increase in student membership in the last five years. In the 1951-52 school year, there were 7,121 children in the schools.

At present 4,844 students are in the first six years of the school system, and 3,477 are in the high schools. That compares to 4,154 in the elementary grades and 2,967 in the high schools five years ago.

HS Enrollment To Rise
The report also indicates that the high schools are due for a vastly increased enrollment. While there are 194 more first graders than five years ago, 173 second graders and so on, up to 181 more ninth graders than five years ago, there are only 18 more tenth grade students than there were five years ago, 28 more 11th graders and five more 12th grade students. Superintendent Keefer said the report shows the postwar "bumper crop" of children is now reaching high school.

According to the report there are 28 students in the Day Care Training Center, 867 in the Conecogue jointure, 206 in Conecogue Twp., 631 in Fairfield jointure, 315 in Franklin Twp., 1,055 in Littlestown jointure, 1,011 in Lower Adams jointure, 627 in North Adams jointure, 627 in North Adams jointure, 2,245 in the Upper Adams jointure and 2,245 in the Gettysburg joint school system.

The directory also carries lists of teachers and directors, dates for meetings of school boards and information on such items as special education in the county, and calendars and dates for various activities.

ARENDSVILLE BANK DINNER HELD TUESDAY

"Ours is a government of the people, by the people, for the people, and this means everyone, not just experts, must learn how to run the government," Rev. Aurance P. Shank, pastor of the Fifth Methodist Church, Harrisburg, told 171 attending the ninth annual stockholders' dinner of the National Bank of Arendtsville Tuesday night.

The roast turkey dinner was served by the Ever Ready Sunday School class in Zion Reformed Church, Arendtsville.

Speaking on "Twentieth Century Rip Van Winkles," Rev. Mr. Shank told the group: "We have been asleep here in America while business has been going on. Today there is much talk of reducing. Magazines offer special diets and recommended special exercises to help people reduce."

"Spiritually Asleep"
"But while we have been spiritually asleep there has been a more serious type of reducing going on. We have been reducing a world of values, standards and morals to a world of things. We've been laying the emphasis on external things and have been allowing the real things in life to go by, just as Rip Van Winkle did."

"A few years ago we made the fatal mistake of copying everything from Europe, our surgeons had to go to Vienna to study, our teachers had to go to Heidelberg, our ministers to Edinburgh. We have changed somewhat, but we are still copying too much from those who are out of style."

"Our great-grandparents believed the greatest of days were the ones in which they lived and they believed that still greater days were to come. How many people today believe this is the greatest day America has ever had?"

Quartet Sings
"In our Rip Van Winkle mood some have even reached the conclusion that only experts know how to run the government, and once we go along with that assumption where are we? If only the consultants know how to operate our government, if experts must be called in, if only the experts know how to do

WORLEY VOTES "NO"

Assemblyman Francis Worley was among six House Republicans who voted against passage of sales tax amendments keeping the levy at 3 per cent and knocking out the stamp plan for collection Tuesday.

And tomorrow, on her 13th birthday, just about the most precious anniversary gift possible will be hers — her name will be taken off the serious list at the U. S. Naval Hospital.

Many believed Judy never would see this day. When she was brought to the hospital eight months ago, third-degree burns covered 74 per cent of her body. Physicians considered 40 per cent fatal. The hospital has been unable to find a previous record of recovery from burns so extensive as suffered by Judy.

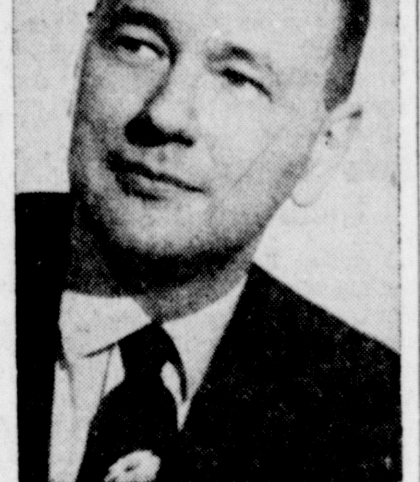

Had 50-50 Chance
Judy was awakened early one morning last June by the whimpering of her puppy. Thinking the little animal hungry, she was heating milk when the stove ignited her nightgown, made of a flammable synthetic, and in a flash

The Gettysburg Travel Council now has $5,000 toward its goal of $22,000 to publicize Gettysburg as a tourist center, according to reports presented Tuesday evening at a meeting of the council at the VFW home, E. Middle St.

Paul Witt and Lee M. Hartman, co-chairmen for the campaign, gave a general report on progress of the drive. Dr. Bruce N. Wolff, Nicholas A. Meligakes and others gave reports on the progress of the sections of the campaign of which they are chairmen. A number of committees reported plans to organize and begin their portion of the campaign during the next ten days.

Following a report by James L. Hafer on various billboard services available and their cost, a committee comprising N. A. Meligakes, O. G. The committee was also instructed to consider wording for the signs.

MORE SUPPORT CAMPAIGN FOR TOURIST FUND

"Everybody in town is benefited by the tourist dollar, regardless of whether the particular business is directly connected with the tourist trade," says David Blocher, co-proprietor of Blocher's Jewelry Store, president of the Retail Merchants Association, director of the Chamber of Commerce and member of the Travel Council.

Blocher is one of a number of local merchants, not considered in the first line of tourist spending, who were polled in a survey by the Travel Council in a campaign to raise $22,579 to bring more visitors to this area during 1957.

"And there is the matter of people engaged in business, or employed by a business, that deals directly with tourists," Blocher pointed out. "A motel owner who gets money directly from tourists may come to town and spend his money — as I'm sure the motel people do — and whose money is it? The tourists."

Contractors Benefited
"Also to be considered is the fact that many contractors are benefited indirectly through construction and other work at motels. I think any merchant should support all three organizations — the Chamber of Commerce, the Travel Council and the Retail Merchants Association," Blocher said.

Paul E. Wakefield, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store, said: "I'd call the tourist trade very welcome additional business. We get

OFFERS TO CALL PRISONERS FOR PARDONS' PROBE

HARRISBURG (AP) — Atty. Gen. Thomas D. McBride today offered to help bring prisoners before a legislative investigating committee if the group felt their testimony would aid in a probe of the State Pardons Board.

"I'd want to help out if the committee felt they would like testimony from them," McBride told a newsman.

Asked specifically if there was any possibility that prisoners and former prisoners who had dealings with the board might be called to testify, McBride replied: "I haven't the slightest idea."

The attorney general made the remarks in advance of the six-member House and Senate committee's first public hearing today at which two Delaware County cases were scheduled for consideration.

Counsel Won't Talk

David S. Kohn, committee counsel, when asked about the prospects of calling prisoners and former prisoners to testify, replied: "My orders are not to say anything and I'm not going to violate them."

McBride said he thought it would be possible to bring before the committee for questioning any prisoner or former prisoner from whom the investigators felt they could get information relative to the board operation.

This opened the possibility that such persons as three convicted Bucks County slayers might be called before the committee to testify.

It was the commutation of the death sentences of these three that triggered the probe in the House several weeks ago.

3 Lives Spared

Those who had their death sentences commuted by Gov. Leader on recommendation of the Pardons Board were: David Darcy, Harold Foster and Harry Zietz.

"I am not positive of the procedure for getting the prisoners to testify but I imagine it could be done with a writ of habeas corpus," McBride said.

He said on a television program (WPTA — "Capital Correspondents") last night that he did not intend to withdraw as counsel for the board because he once argued an appeal for Darcy. He said the Darcy case was over and that "David Darcy is not on trial."

FARM MARKETS ARE DISCUSSED

"Farmers will likely receive a smaller share of the consumer's dollar than they did in prior years," according to a panel discussion at a "Market Meeting" held by the Adams County Agricultural Extension Association Tuesday evening at the Adams Electric Cooperative building.

County Agent Frank S. Zettle served as moderator for the panel which included Cyrus Bucher, Biglerville, and Fred Robertson and William F. Johnston, extension economists from Pennsylvania State University.

But the panel members held the trend might not be "too bad" in terms of income. "A farmer might get more dollars despite the smaller share of retail sales," The economists pointed to the experience of the citrus growers, whose share of the dollar has been reduced per orange by the introduction of frozen orange juice, but who are making more money as a group because of the vastly increased sale of oranges in the form of frozen orange juice.

The panel and audience were agreed that "it is important for merchandising progress to continue so that farm products can maintain and expand the consumer demand. While the farmer may get of the consumer dollar per item, by increased sales he can make his total income higher."

NAM PRESIDENT BLAMES UNIONS FOR INFLATION

WASHINGTON (AP) — The president of the National Assn. of Manufacturers blames inflation on organized labor and says unions view wage negotiations as "a gun in the ribs."

Ernest G. Swigert of Portland, Ore., made the comment here yesterday in a news conference which coincided with the release of an N A M report entitled "Monopoly Power as Exercised by Labor Unions."

In blaming labor for inflation, Swigert said that "since 1949 we have had round after round of unjustified wage increases. The whole country — including the working man — would be better off without them."

Bargain For Wages

The NAM official also said he believes wages should be based on labor-management bargaining without taking into consideration either profits or increased productivity.

"I don't see any way of pegging wages to productivity, and I don't think it should be done," he said. Productivity goes up, Swigert said, when "billions and billions are spent in purchasing new machinery."

Swigert said that "unless the monopoly power of unions is curbed there can be no protection for the public against continuing inflation and the wage-price spiral will continue to endanger our entire economy."

List Objectives

The NAM report, which followed a year's study by labor-management experts headed by Leo Wolman of Columbia University, listed a series of "objectives."

These involved ending "domination of bargaining by international unions," "an end to compulsory union membership in any form," and a ban "against the use of union funds and union staff employees for partisan political purposes."

Growth In Earnings

"One of the outstanding occurrences during the year, with which I am sure all of you are familiar, was the armed hold-up and robbery of the bank November 7. Insofar as we know, this remains unsolved. The loss, in the amount of $25,782, was very promptly settled by the Ohio Casualty Co. through the prompt services of the local agent, A. J. Carbaugh, one of the stockholders of your bank."

"The past year was one of further growth in the earnings of your bank. The operating earnings rose to $5.98 per share before provisions for taxes, the depreciation write-off on the bank building and equipment and the annual dividend of 12 per cent on the capital stock of the bank."

"The deposit increase of more than $225,000 represents better than 11 1/2 per cent above 1955. A portion of this increase went into our loan account which rose to $1,170,000 or almost 24 per cent above the 1955 loans. At the end of the year the bank had total assets of $2,415,708.80 compared to $2,178,059.06 at the end of 1955. Deposits had risen from $1,935,410.27 in 1955 to $2,160,889.15 in 1956."

The latter, concerning a trading-in of cars, was arranged for showing by Rotarian Clarence R. Reck. The films were shown by James Kress, local high school senior.

Today's Talk

LESSONS I'VE LEARNED
If we would only keep our ears wide open, and perhaps our lips closed, we might learn of many a lesson that would be of great profit to us in some way or others.

I have learned many a lesson in railroad trips, at luncheons, and from books. As a matter of fact there are lessons to be learned each day of our lives if we would only think. We learn least by talking when the time is not opportune. It's the other fellow who teaches us.

How many are the lessons I have learned by just listening. All the important ideas are not to be found in books, but from observing and by putting facts together. I know of an incident that gave a man the chance to make a large sum of money because he acted at once on information he heard in a conversation — information he had been trying to find out for months. I have learned to weigh my talk with strangers.

Many a lesson I have learned from my great interest in nature. The out-of-doors is a realm of knowledge, much of which is yet to be learned. So many of our beautiful designs have been adopted from nature. Was there ever a more perfect design created that has topped the simple snowflake? And how perfect each leaf design on trees, shrubs and flowers. What a laboratory of riches in this earth of ours! A chemical laboratory right under our feet!

I have learned to be patient and not to expect all my dreams to come true at once. We have to wait years on many of them — and many never come true. That should teach us to be humble and hopeful. It should enrich our faith.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "What A Brief Time!"

GAIN AND LOSS

The richest man in town came in. "There's nothing that I want," said he.

"Except what I have failed to win. And that is friendly company. I had several years ago. When I'd a weekly salary small;

But now I'm rich, the friends I know

No longer stop to pay a call.

"They're proud as once they used to be.

Above them I have climbed too high.

They used to stop to chat with me

But now I see them hurry by.

And now to visit they're afraid. Although they boast 'they knew me when.'

It seems the fortune I have made

Has cost me far too many men."

TRAVEL COUNCIL

teered to keep the information center in the depot clean without cost to the Travel Council.Plan Film For TV
A committee comprising Walter B. Lane, G. Henry Roth and John Madsen was appointed to arrange a 12-minute film for TV use.

A general discussion was held on means of impressing on the general public that the battlefield is a national shrine in order to prevent vandalism. The problem of vandalism will probably come to the forefront in 1963 when large numbers of tourists will be here in connection with the 100th anniversary. The need to prevent vandalism was based on experiences in Yellowstone and other national parks where some tourists have caused great damage, according to the discussion. It was felt that most people who come to Gettysburg now do so because of a prior knowledge and interest in the battlefield. It was felt that among the many here in the future will be some curiosity seekers who will not have the same approach to the battlefield as seen in most tourists today.

MORE SUPPORT

A lot of tourists end when they're in here they're always browsing around. They take their time. If you see a man buying a small size of shaving cream or lotion or a lady getting the "traveler's size of toiletries, that customer is likely to be a tourist."

"Tourists sometimes come in and make purchases," said Ray Seltzer, of the Gettysburg Hardware Company. "One lady said to me, 'Every time I come to Gettysburg I want to get something to take home.' She looked around for a while and then said 'Give me a set of mixing bowls.' Then she picked up several other things making her total purchases eight dollars and a half. Even in winter a few tourists purchase goods they see in the windows. Only a few weeks ago I sold a pair of skates to people who were from suburban Philadelphia."

The experience of these local businessmen tends to support findings of the National Association of Travel Officials and of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States that money spent by tourists is spent in every kind of business establishment, while a certain amount of it is spent directly in the various retail stores of the community, a Travel Council spokesman said.

132 SCHOOLBOY

SECTION 2 MEET

Wrestling fans will be offered a full course of wrestling this weekend at Bolling Springs High School when 132 wrestlers engage in 121 bouts before the sectional champs are decided. The tournament will begin Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock when 44 bouts will be staged. Friday evening at 7 o'clock 44 more bouts will be held.

Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock 22 semi-final bouts will be held and these 22 winners will meet Saturday evening in the finals to determine the champions in each weight class. The finals will begin at 7:30 p.m. Five champions from last year will be back to defend their titles.

A large crowd is expected to witness the bouts. Biglerville, Mechanicsburg and Juniata Joint are strong favorites to win team honors, but Carlisle and Central Dauphin could also step in and take the team trophy. Susquehanna Township, Cumberland Valley, Big Spring, Shippensburg, and Bolling Springs all have boys who could cause trouble for the other schools. Pete Gribble of Shippensburg is one of the boys who will be out to retain his title. Newport and Dover High Schools are an unknown quality, but both have entered a complete team and may cause trouble for the top contenders.

Believe Lost Girl
Was Kidnapped

BELLMAWR, N. J. (AP)—Meager clues bolstered hopes today that a 4-year-old girl missing since Monday had been kidnapped and was still alive.

It was a view shared by the grieving parents of Mary Jane Barker who pleaded with anyone holding their child: "Please leave her at the nearest church."

There was no evidence of kidnapping, no ransom note—but police, like the parents, clung to the theory because of the fact a puppy also is missing.

Today is Mary Jane's 4th birthday, and tomorrow is her father's birthday.

Yesterday, despite a heavy rainstorm, more than 500 persons searched muddy fields and wooded areas. They covered miles but found nothing.

Ships are carriers for more than three-fourths of the goods being exchanged between nations.

Biglerville, Adams County League champions, will meet Camp Hill on the Carlisle High floor Saturday evening, March 9. Originally Biglerville was scheduled to meet Warwick on March 6 at York. The Canners have been given a bye in the new realignment while Warwick tangles with the York County champion on the March 6 date. Tickets for the Biglerville-Camp Hill game may now be secured in the Biglerville Junior High School office at 80c for adults and 50c for students. DELONE SPURTS FOR 50-45 WIN OVER SCOTLAND A flurry of goals by "Chas" Weaver in the final frame gave the Delone Squires a 50-45 win over the Scotland Cadets on the McSherrystown court Tuesday evening before the smallest crowd of the season. Delone led 34-33 going into the fourth quarter of a low scoring and slow moving game. Weaver dunked a foul shot to give the Squires a two-point lead but Milt Dickerson, followed by Wayne Imes' lay-up on the fast break and a long set by Clair Trexler to turn the tide and give an advantage of four points to the Cadets. Within seven seconds Delone had regained the lead for good as senior guard Chas Weaver, playing heads up ball, turned a pair of steals into two pointers and took a long pass for another score to put the Squires in front 41-39. Joe Post landed two more foul shots while Jim Strazzella hit on a one-handed jump from the corner. Little Jack Kennedy ripped the cords with a long set. Ed Roth chipped in with a couple of free throws only to be matched by Berney Dickerson's lay-up and Jonny Duggan's one-handed push from the side. Delone closed the scoring with a foul shot by Post and Weaver's jump shot from the foul lane. TEAMS SUBNORMAL Both teams failed to showing their usual brand of basketball from the opening tap off. The field goal percentage was below normal as was the foul shooting and the passes were missing their mark. After Milt Dickerson opened with a jump shot Delone came back to take a 14-10 lead at the end of the first frame on goals by Phil Staub, Post and Weaver. Milt Dickerson and Duggan landed the only goals for the visiting team. In the second and third quarters the Cadets outscored Coach Johnny Russ' lads 23-20. Ed Roth tallied five out of the six two-pointers made by the Squires, the other going to Strazzella. All five starters for Scotland contributed to the scoring column. Chas Weaver paced the winners with 15 points followed by Ed Roth's 14. For Coach Marshall Frye's outfit it was Milt Dickerson leading the pack with 11 while brother Berney tallied 10. After taking a 26-18 half time lead the little Squires had little trouble in disposing of the Scotland reserves 49-29 in the preliminary contest. Johnny Gastley was the big gun for the winners with five goals and eight out of 11 fouls for 18 points. Jack Kennedy, flashy guard who helped the varsity in the fourth period, was high man for Scotland with 15. Host Westminster Delone will play their final game of the season on Thursday when they will entertain the Owls of Westminster. | | G | F | P | |-----------------|---|-----|----| | Watson, f | 0 | 0-1 | 0 | | Bolzan, f | 0 | 0-0 | 0 | | B. Says Nation Prospers And State In Economic Blight

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A Pittsburgh industrialist said Tuesday Pennsylvania is in the throes of a tax-induced economic blight while most of the nation is enjoying the greatest prosperity in American history.

Willard F. Rockwell, board chairman of the Rockwell Manufacturing Co. and the Rockwell Spring and Axle Co., told the annual luncheon of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Assn. that the slackening of industrial progress in this state in recent years has caused Pennsylvania's rate of population growth to fall off "so sharply" since 1950 that the commonwealth may lose two U. S. House seats after the 1960 census.

Factories Are Idle
He said more and more factories are standing idle and "unnecessary unemployment" deepens—in sharp contrast to the picture elsewhere in the nation.

"The two most significant Pennsylvania taxes causing this economic blight," he said, "are the capital stock tax and the corporate net income tax. Together they make Pennsylvania's combined corporate taxes among the highest in the nation."

Pennsylvania, Rockwell said, has suffered a "severe setback" from the fact it levies both forms of taxes while many other states offer at most only one or the other. Pennsylvania's economic plight, he added, is heightened by the inequity of federal subsidization of industry in other areas.

"When an industry leaves Pennsylvania for a state where lower power costs are subsidized by the government," he said, "it is the result of viciously unfair competition."

"Pennsylvanians," he added, "are being taxed to support government-subsidized power plants in other states—so we are being simultaneously hit by higher taxes on all remaining production, while federally-favored states attract our industries by offering lower power costs."

Rockwell cited as an example of Pennsylvania's position in the national economic situation its failure to attract some of the plants spawned by the decentralization of the auto industry. This process, he said, has brought new manufacturing and assembly plants to New York, New Jersey, Ohio and Delaware—but only major facilities to Pennsylvania—"the Fisher Body Plant adjacent to the Pittsburgh steel center where savings in freight on steel and scrap was the biggest attraction."

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—A three-man court-martial Tuesday sentenced 11 Syrians and one Lebanese to death after finding them guilty of plotting to overthrow the Syrian regime. They were alleged to have plotted with Britain, France, Iraq and Turkey. The court also sentenced the ex-dictator, Adib Shisheki, now in France, to hard labor for life after convicting him of complicity in the plot.

25 BUSINESSES RAZED BY BLAZE

MERIDEN, Conn. (AP)—Fire raced through two adjoining buildings in the center of Meriden early Tuesday, destroying more than 25 businesses, a radio station and several apartments.

Fire officials estimated damage would exceed a million dollars.

Eight persons escaped from the apartments. One man, an elderly cripple, was unaccounted for hours after the blaze.

One of the buildings, a four-story brick structure, collapsed into rubble.

The missing man, Fred Werner, lived in a fourth-floor apartment in that building with his sister, Mrs. Emily Rockwell, about 60. She was located later at the home of a daughter.

At the height of the fire, which blazed out of control for almost two hours, ammunition in a sporting goods store caught fire. "It was like the Fourth of July," said one fireman.

The fire was discovered by patrolman Walter France, who just before Christmas rescued four persons from a fire only two blocks away from this one. A mother and her four children died in that fire.

Seek To Change Name Of 2 Intersections

HARRISBURG (AP)—The House considered Tuesday legislation to change the names of the Blue Mountain and Harrisburg-West Shore Interchanges on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

The measure, introduced last night by four Republicans, would change the Blue Mountain Interchange in Franklin County to the "Shippensburg Chambersburg Interchange" and the Harrisburg-West Shore Interchange to the "West Shore-York" interchange.

Sponsors were Reps. Enos Horst (Franklin), Arthur George (Cumberland), George Goodling (York) and Stanley Gross (York).

Mrs. F.D.R. Favors 5 For U. S. President

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt Tuesday named five men she said would make good Democratic presidential candidates in 1960.

The list did not include former Illinois Gov. Adlai Stevenson, whom she supported in two unsuccessful bids for the presidency.

In her monthly column in the current issue of McCall's Magazine, she said she "would be happy" to see any of these Democrats make the race:

Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon; Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan; U.S. Senator Joseph S. Clark of Pennsylvania; Gov. Edmund Muskie of Maine; and Chester Bowles, former governor of Connecticut and former U.S. ambassador to India.

VAN DOREN IS STOPPED AGAIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Charles Van Doren is having trouble boosting his television quiz show winnings above the $143,000 mark. A lady lawyer, Mrs. Vivienne Nearing, tied him for the second time Monday night.

It means that Van Doren, a Columbia University instructor, and Mrs. Nearing must compete again next week on NBC's "21" show in hopes of breaking the deadlock.

They'll be battling then for $2,000 a point, four times the normal $500 amount. The stakes are big for both Van Doren and his lady challenger.

If Van Doren loses, he'll be off the show. In addition, whatever Mrs. Nearing wins will be deducted from Van Doren's total winnings thus far. It could be as much as $42,000 if she happened to shut him out by a 21-0 score.

Neither Van Doren or his challenger faltered Monday night as each correctly answered several multi-point questions in two games. They even selected the same question for one game and each came up with the correct answers.

MRS. AMERICA CONTEST OPEN

Local homemakers still have the rest of this week to enter the nationwide Mrs. America contest, the gas company today.

Entries will not be accepted after Friday, March 1. Judging local contestants will start a few days later and the winner will be named March 15. Entry blanks can be obtained at local gas appliance dealers or at the gas company office.

Julian Estep, The Manufacturers Light & Heat Company manager here, urged all local homemakers to enter the contest which offers Mrs. America several thousand dollars worth of prizes.

"The gas industry, along with other co-sponsors of the Mrs. America contest, is seeking contestants who represent the average American official said.

"Whether a homemaker is bathing beauty is unimportant. The title of Mrs. America is bestowed upon a woman who has poise and personality—who plans and prepares meals on a budget—who is a good home-manager—and who is active in community affairs," the manager said.

Estep asked husbands to urge their wives to enter the contest. Numerous homemakers have advanced to the top levels of the contest because of the husband's belief that his wife was an excellent homemaker.

Following judging of the local winner, a regional winner will be named and regional winners will then compete for state honors. State winners will participate in the Mrs. America finals in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, in May.

There isn't a single wooden structure in the capital city of Hamilton, Bermuda. All houses must be built of stone as a fire safety measure.
